BUILT BY CRAFTSMAN

DESIGNED FOR WATERSPORTS

Axis boats roll off the same production lines as Malibu Boats® so you're getting the same level of quality as the best-selling inboard boats in the world. The team at Axis Wake Research use V-drive propulsion because it's simply the best system for watersports. The propeller is tucked up under the hull for safety while swimming and surfing and it also keeps the draft shallow so depth is less of an issue.

1. Another essential watersports design element on an Axis boat are the gorilla fins. They keep the boat on a straight track providing the surfer or wakeboarder with a clean wake and wave.
2. The prop on an Axis boat is tucked underneath the boat and nearly three and a half feet back from the swim platform.. Axis has also crafted the drivetrain to the specific engine and length boat. This means the prop will deliver the torque needed to propel from a dead stop to full riding speed in seconds.
